The winter of the plumber's discontent came to a sudden end last night and now it is just the kind of a winter the pipe-fitting engineers like. There was a general clearing of "fog" back to the shop and get the tools, which ran these foremen bills up to an awful rate.

Real winter—not the imitation article—struck the coke region broad east last night, and up to press time it was still hanging on, with no indication of letting up. A non-blizzard started all the trouble, and this was followed by a spectacular tumble of temperature that outdoor thermometer readable faces of the mercury had displayed during this year of 1912, or the last half of 1911.

Of course the weather for the past week hasn't been of that balmy, springlike variety, but it was the kind of winter, with not enough cold to freeze the pipes. There hasn't been enough snow until now, to make the kids think seriously of sledding, and ice skating was becoming almost a lost art in Western Pennsylvania.

The cold caused much suffering and an increase in the consumption of coal was noted. A number of water pipes were frozen up, and refused to flow without outside assistance. A few burst pipes were reported.

The situation changed suddenly. The former stage settings were torned in the discards and something new offered. Just now it is the kind that tempts men to take in axe and go out a still hunt for the gink who wrote that beautiful ballad entitled: "Winter."

Yesterday morning the temperature was 18 degrees above zero. During the afternoon it went up to 22, 10 below freezing. Then the blizzard came along and by 5:30 the mercury had sunk until a bare 10 degrees above was recorded. From that time on the mercury kept sinking down, down until it hit the zero mark in Connellville, and perhaps even lower. That, but so far no one has come to the front who was up at the hour when the temperature was camouflaging beneath the "No" mother in the tube.

Along Water street this morning a reliable thermometer, owned by Dr. J. C. Moore, refused to leave the zero mark. The water in Connellville, and perhaps even lower. That, but so far no one has come to the front who was up at the hour when the temperature was camouflaging beneath the "No" mother in the tube.

About an inch of snow fell and it was handled roughly by the wind. The cold continued for several hours but was at its worst between six and eight o'clock.

It was bitterly cold in the mountains, although the storm seemed to come from the west. In the Indian Creek valley it was "blasted cold," as a young lady of that section expressed it, but the mountain tops were not so bad. The wind was from the west, but to see the wind from that direction only zero weather prevailed. Lower Tyne township reported two degrees below, while at Sand Patch the Baltimore & Ohio railroad reports gave 2 below at the lowest. Around Allentown three inches of snow fell.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 5.—The entire west from the Great Lakes to the region just east of the Pacific slope is fast in the grip of the most severe weather of the winter. In many places low temperature records of the last four or five years have been broken.

Suffering in this city was intense last night. The city and county agencies and the charity organizations were almost helpless before the extraordinary demand for fuel, food and shelter. Chicago's army of 150,000 jobless workmen and their families suffered keenly. At the Municipal lodging house 750 men were given shelter for the night. Not another person could be placed on the floor of the building. Hundreds were sent under escort of police to various slum houses to be kept warm. All were given breakfast today.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 5.—At 5 o'clock this morning the temperature was one degree below zero. The Weather Bureau predicts 8 degrees below for tonight.

Miss Emma Noyes Brady, the former high school teacher, who sued the members of the old school board for $25,000 for injuries alleged to have been received during the leakage of gas at the High School building last spring, but who was non-suited, arrived in town this morning and was an interested spectator at the regular morning exercises at the school.

To a reporter, Miss Brady said this morning:

"My visit to Connellville has no special significance. I merely dropped in to see my old friends."

When asked in regard to the outcome of the recent case in Pittsburgh, she said, "I know nothing of what my lawyers intend to do. They may take the case to a higher court and they may not. I believe that it is their intention to do so. My doctors have ordered me not to attempt to teach this year. I have no ill feeling whatsoever toward anyone here."

Miss Brady is a guest at the Port residence on Crawford avenue. She will remain in town until tomorrow.

Miss Brady's recollections and complaints with Principal Coughlin up to the time the reporter landed his interview. During the recent trial in Pittsburgh several of the faculty, including Superintendent Adams and Principal Coughlin, were on hand ready to refute some of Miss Brady's claims.

SCIENCE DOPE IS HANDED THE
MEDICOS AT THEIR MEETING

Dr. W. J. Bailey Presided Over the Demonstrations Which Preceded the Session.

The monthly meeting of the Young Medical Social Club opened last evening with a scientific meeting held in the room of the club, 100 North Third street. The club members were present and one visitor, Dr. L. J. C. Bailey of Greensburg, a brother of the host. There were six microscopes owned by the club members of the club and demonstrations of different specimens were given.

Dr. Bailey gave a demonstration on the microscope, illustrating some of the latest called the ultra-microscope which aids one to see living germs which could not be seen any other way. The demonstrations were interesting as well as instructive. A business session, during which time business of a routine nature was transacted, followed. The doctors were then driven to their automobiles at the home of Dr. Bailey on Imbelle road, where a well appointed oyster supper was served. The table was prettily decorated with murex and red carnations. The next meeting will be held on the first Thursday evening in February at the home of Dr. H. J. Hill at Dawson.

GOING UP RAPIDLYSuperintendent Cissell Running

Weather Man.

STRUCTURAL STEEL IS PLACED

Delays in Shipment of Steel From Indiana Quarries Holds Back a Portion of the Work—Living is Being Done by Hand.

Despite the continued cold weather T. W. Cissell in charge of the new Federal building, at the corner of Arch and Apple streets, has his force of men on the job in order that as much may be accomplished as possible at this time. The swinging of the big steel girders into place was begun a week ago and will be finished up, in so far as it is possible, today. The delay in the placing of the remainder of the steel is occasioned by the failure in delivery of a shipment of steel from the Bedford, Ind. quarries. These stones are the regular Indiana limestone. The delay means that the last of the beams will not be in place before the latter part of spring or in the summer.

At present the last of the concrete for the footings of the steel foundations is being put in. All of the concrete around the outside footings is in. The drain which is to be placed around the outside wall, it is expected, will be put in shortly. Permission from the government inspector is needed before the work can go ahead and it is thought that he will give it shortly.

The cut alone which will form the outside of the building will be lined with brick. The interior of the building will be done entirely by hand. Owing to the smallness of the job and the great expense entailed in bringing the compressor here, the machine is not being used. While an air compressor would hasten the work, satisfactory results are being obtained through hand labor.

Most of the structural steel workers are from the Western Maryland where they helped with the big all across the river bottom. When the outside work arrives, a large of the structural steel workers will be brought on from Washington, D. C., to do the work.

AGAIN CALLED UPONSomerset County Man's Successor Finds Task for

IS SENT BACK TO DETROIT

Sheriff Hechard Decided That as Extradition Papers Were in Weimer's
Name, Former Sheriff Should Go After Nicholas Spielberg.

Special to The Courier.

SOMERSET, Jan. 5.—For the first time in the history of Somerset county a retiring Sheriff was called upon to make a trip in connection with the administration of the Sheriff's office yesterday when ex-Sheriff Charles E. Weimer, whose term of office expired on Monday was sent to Detroit, Mich. in the matter of the extradition of Nicholas Spielberg.

Mr. Weimer held a prisoner at Detroit on charges of larceny and practicing hypnosis for fraudulent purposes. He married Esther Lipschitz, a daughter of Emil Lipschitz, the wealthy Somersedian, last summer and he is being brought back to Somerset county, if possible, to answer charges preferred against him by his father-in-law.

Sheriff Weimer went to Detroit last week with papers for Spielberg's extradition, but the prisoner temporarily blocked plans of the Somerset authorities by applying for a habeas corpus hearing which was scheduled for yesterday. Sheriff Weimer returned to Somerset, and although his term of office had expired, he was again directed to Michigan yesterday. Inasmuch as the extradition papers are directed to him, as noted in The Courier on Friday evening, he will go to Detroit.

Sheriff Weimer did not go to Detroit yesterday, being advised by his counsel that it was not necessary for him to appear. However, he was represented by several Detroit attorneys.

Marjorie Harkness Didn't Get Rich on the Knock-Down But Noted in Being

Special to The Courier.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 5.—Marjorie Harkness, aged 20 years, who featured in the penny arcade short-change investigation by the city commissioners, has found that it pays to get in the line.

Yesterday Miss Harkness stated she had been offered two positions by men due to the fact that her case was brought to public attention through the inquiry, adding, "The Lyric theatre at Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, has offered me $1 a week to go on the stage there in a singing act and the majestic theatre at Oakesdale, Wash., has offered me $25 a week to appear in character work. I shall probably accept one or the other. This is some improvement over the $6 a week I received from the Arcade theatre here."

Miss Harkness was accused of filling in the proper amount of change for each when patrons would buy tickets. She puts up a novel defense and proved that frequently patrons bought tickets and walked away from the window leaving their change upon the counter. In the rush of business it was frequently impossible to rectify the mistake. Miss Harkness pointed out that her receipts from this particular source of revenue frequently averaged $1 a day.

Mrs. Klup and her husband had been at the Klup home and Mrs. Klup baked pies for the dinner. Klup tasted one of the pies and bit into a grapey substance. Her husband was not present. He may have put poison in them to trump up this charge against me. I do not know."

LENIENCY FOR THE LAWBREAKERS

Attorney Ellwood D. Fulton Recommends Free Hand For Judges and Quotes From Judge Ben B. Lindsay: Economy to Be Watchword.

Economy in its business administration and aspiring to a Utopian form of government are the two general features which are likely to become the prime factors of the new borough of South Connellville. Sentiment to this effect was crystallized at a meeting of the Socialistic Council of the new borough held last night in the basement of the Gibson High school building.

The keynote of the new administration was sounded when Borough Solicitor Ellwood D. Fulton, the Socialist lawyer of Uniontown, spoke at length on leniency in the dealing with breakers of the law. He cited the record of Judge Ben B. Lindsay of the work he is doing in the Deaver Juvenile Court, and likened his work to that which should be done in South Connellville.

"At Deaver," said Solicitor Fulton, "the judge is not held down by any set law or laws in the giving of sentences of young criminals. He is free to use his judgment whether to impose upon a wrangler a light sentence or not to give him any sentence at all. The statistics show that where a judge or Burgess has been free to use his good judgment, the results were always better in the end."

It was the plan of the Solicitor to add to the ordinances of the borough a clause that will give to the Burgess and although the ordinance was not voted upon, it is altogether likely that it will be adopted at the next meeting. The assets of the borough were discussed at length by the Councilmen and although the ordinance was not voted upon, it is altogether likely that it will be adopted at the next meeting.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Proposed by Congressmen

To give every man and woman over 60 years old a pension from the United States treasury, is the surprising proposal of a congressman.

What most old people need is help in keeping up strength and vigor. Thousands of them know that the greatest help they can get is our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, called Vinol.

Mrs. Mary Fey of Columbus, Ga., says: "If people only knew the good Vinol does old people you would be unable to supply the demand. I never took anything before that did me so much good as Vinol has done. It is the finest tonic and strength creator I ever used in my life."

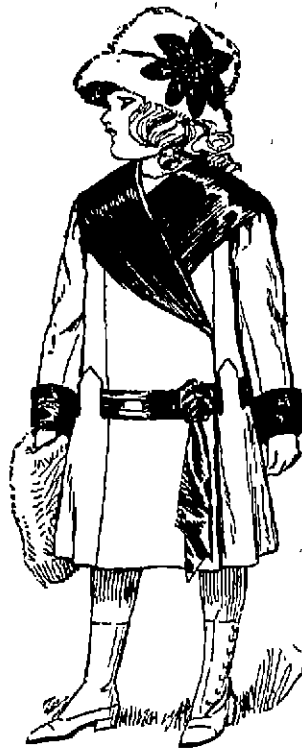

Vinol renews the energy and strength of old people because it enriches their thinned blood and improves their appetite and digestion, and is also so pleasant to take that they like to use it. We guarantee Vinol to give perfect satisfaction and pay back your money if it does not. Graham & Company, Druggists, Connelville, Pa. Vinol is sold in West Connelville by Fred H. Harmaning, Druggist.

TRIPPED IN COURT ON WORD MEANING

If Prospective Juror Had Had That Question Asked, He Would Have Known and Not Been Tripped by Lawyer.

A man was under examination recently by a lawyer with reference to his qualifications as a juror in an important case.

"Do you understand," the lawyer asked, "what is meant by a preponderance of evidence?"

"Yes, sir," the man replied promptly.

"Let me have your definition of it," the lawyer then asked.

"Well, what is it, I tell you."

"I know what it is," said the man hotly. "When I tell you I know what a thing is, I know it. That's all there is to it."

"I don't want to hear any more of that kind of talk," interposed the court. "Answer the question addressed to you."

"Judge, I did," the man insisted.

"And I said I did," the lawyer retorted.

"And you know what is meant by preponderance of evidence," the court directed the juror.

"It's evidence preponderantly pondered," was the answer.

The lawyer is distributing Webster's New Standard Dictionary Illustrated. With this book at hand there can be no excuse for not knowing the meaning of terms commonly used in law or business. The book comprises 1,200 pages of handy reference for daily use. It includes also the usual definitions of terms commonly used in pure educational value.

The Courler has undertaken to distribute an entire edition of this dictionary to the public, but, judged from the large number of responses returned into our office yesterday, the edition will be disposed of before the time limit.

Men, women and children should own this modern dictionary.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The mere assertion that a man, known as the "star caterer of San Francisco" was in the habit of serving four canvas back ducks cooked for a meal, eating one and using the fillets of three for gravy, and ordering a basket of champagne at a table of twelve, has not caused any of each bottle is not libelous according to Justice Vernon M. Davis of the State Supreme Court.

Justice Davis threw out of court the suit of William J. Daily, San Francisco mining man, who demanded $100,000 from the publishing house of Bobbs Merrill & Company of Indianapolis, for the use of the name of the author of the novel "The Heart Line," Burgess described the "Best Feeder of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco," telling of what he drank and ate and Daily asserted that the publisher had fitted him and he was libeled by it.

McKeesport Mills Get One of the Largest Ever Placed.

McKeesport, Pa., where it is being laid, suggest that the steel pipe placed in the country over a year was signed up by the National Tube Company, and calls for 125,000 tons of pipe, valued at $1,000,000, amounting to about 6,000 tons. The greatest pipe order will be shipped to the California oil fields, and will be used for connecting the pipes extending from a circuit of pipes producing wells to refineries near the coast. The pipe order, according to the officials of the company, will likely be the largest ever placed with a pipe mill, a major portion coming to the McKeesport plant. It will require some months to complete the order. The National Tube Company, through the booking of this order, is filled to capacity for some time in the week. The full force of men will be employed in the McKeesport mills and it is said that the company, which has been running under curtailed production orders, will be able to resume normal production.

Despite the near-buzzard which rugged-around's clock, just the time that the McKeesport plant was to ship up their turned to stay at home, a big crowd turned out to welcome the A.G. Field mineral show at the Sossens. The show was worth braving the elements, and the show was worth the pleasure by frequent volleys of applause.

Bert Swoer, of "Scarcecor" fame, was the lecturer, but he has lots of assistance. The solo numbers were above the average. Likewise the aquatic effects. A.G. Field has a mineral aggregation hard to beat.

The Union Supply Company stores have in effect now, active clearance sales. After the great holiday rush, we find many odds and ends throughout the entire stock; in every department. We also have many strong lines that are practically unbroken. In a word, we have too much stock, and our usual method of reducing stocks, is now in effect. It is a clearance sale, a cleaning out, a closing out of all odds and ends or surplus stock. It is a great time in the year to get bargains. The women's and girls' departments have many novelties, attractive coats, suits, hats and other winter garments, many of them marked down to one-half their actual value. If you have not yet bought your winter supply, now is the right time.

cover the entire stock of men's, women's boys and girls shoes at slows. In large stores like we carry there naturally is an accumulation of odds and ends and it becomes necessary twice a year to clean them out. The most effective way we find to do this is to cut the prices
out. That has been done the goods are all going out at great reductions in price. In addition to the odds and ends we also have some lines that are practically unbroken. This is due to the slowness in turning out what we make. All these goods are being reduced and the most effective way is again, to reduce the price. We will replace every pair of Shoes we sell. If not entirely satisfactory, we will replace them or refund your money.
